

Week ending: 12.11.2021

Classes	Name	Reason
FCQ	Louee	For generally having such a super week! His maths learning has been wonderful, he has created a great and very complicated pattern. In fact all his work has been great as he also made a fabulous poppy. Well done.
	Harriet	For super contributions to our lesson about similarities and differences.
FCC	Lyla	For producing brilliant work during our Remembrance learning. Lyla was able to independently make a poppy picture and explain how she made it.
	Joshua	Joshua really enjoyed our Jigsaw learning about differences. Joshua could talk about what makes him special and what is different to others.
1GC	Freddie	For fantastic understanding of our Remembrance work. He produced a super poem about Heroes. He was very sensitive about the words he decided to use. Also for his super show and tell – Great Grandads medals.
	Jack	For being a super Jigsaw friend – showing a great understanding of differences between people. You think so carefully about what you want to say and share in our Jigsaw lessons Jack.
1AW	Bam	For doing super writing in our topic work and having really good answers to questions.
	Louie	For have some fantastic answers to our similarities and differences between us that we have been discussing in Jigsaw.
2HC	Emily	Emily is an 'always' child and I have chosen her this week so that we can celebrate the fact that Emily always shows respect to adults and her peers in school. Emily is incredibly kind, helpful and has the most wonderful smile! Well done, Emily!
	Oliver	Oliver has a super knowledge of how we are all different and how that makes us all special. Oliver contributes extremely well during our Jigsaw lessons – well done!

2MA	Tilly	Tilly completely knocked my socks off this week with her amazing understanding in maths. She listened carefully to the new method before using it accurately in her own work and even producing an example to put on the working wall. Well done Tilly!
	Vicky	Vicky is this week's Jigsaw friend as she has shown a really good understanding of stereotypes and differences. She even made a link to this during our Remembrance day when she pointed out that girls could be soldiers too, not just boys.
3SH	William	William is a maths superstar. There is no maths challenge that he won't try and he has such determination and resilience with all of his work. The whole class have been chosen for Jigsaw this week – we looked at bullying and the children were so mature and sensible with all of their ideas and choices. Well done 3SH!
3RM	Harry	For trying hard in all lessons, especially with his maths and pencil control.
4LP	Freddie	Freddie has produced some really lovely descriptive writing. He has written two detailed description of a hero and a dragon. He has selected only the best language and used perfect punctuation.
		All my class for being so kind and thoughtful today. They have really impressed me with how they have behaved and the kindness they have shown to one of their friends.
4NM	Janna	Well done for returning to school after being aware and working really hard. Super effort in swimming which is new and challenging for her.
5NW	Mollie	Mollie is an always child. Always helpful, always does the right thing, is always a good friend, always goes above and beyond in her work and presentation. This week she has gone above and beyond in all subjects. Her art work yesterday, when we replicated illustrations from "Where the Poppy's now grow"
5DP	Ryan	For outstanding artwork in the style of Martin Impey. Our jaws have only just been picked up off the floor! Ryan's careful attention to detail was inspirational and the whole of year 5 are incredibly proud to have him in our team. What a talent!
6SE	Charlie	This week Charlie has worked incredibly hard on his presentation especially in his maths book. He has also impressed me with his knowledge of countries in the world and is able to name 102 off the top of his head. Charlie has also shown through our WW day his amazing knowledge of both wars, the aircrafts involved and machinery. Finally, Charlie wowed us with his ability to read with

	Joel	pace and passion while reading a poem about the Blitz leaving us all with goosebumps. He has had a wonderful week. Joel is this week's Jigsaw friend because as well as supporting myself and always willing and offering to help, he also supports his peers. He will always help those who need it, encourage them or cheer them up if they are feeling upset. Joel will often go out of his way to do this and it has been noticed and is appreciated. Well done Joel.
6WW	Connor	Connor has shown great perseverance in his maths, working to master long multiplication. On Thursday as part of WW2 day, Connor worked really hard to ensure that all the soldiers at Dunkirk could be rescued and calculated the time they had to leave Dover to do this. Well done, Connor
	Lunch time stars this week	Thank you to our wonderful lunch time helpers. This week it was children from 6WW Lily, Harriet, Josh, Jamie, Camilla, Harry, Noah, Toby, Oliver, Thomas , Elise and Reece
